"If You're Shot Down In Midst Of Jungle--Take Your Time; Get Help From Natives," Advises Lieutenant Smith

By ANDREW M. GENZOLI

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC —"If you're shot down in the midst of a jungle, take your time, walk in one direction, and by all means get help from the first natives you see. Their appearances may be deceiving, but they are friendly and will do anything to help you. . . "

That's the advice of First Lieutenant Grant R. Smith of Daly City, California, 13th Army Air Force P-40 pilot who returned September 1 from an 18-day stay in the jungle after being shot down over an island in the northern Solomons, according to information from headquarters, Lieutenant General Millard F. Harmon, commanding U. S. Army Forces in the South Pacific.

"I tried to go through one swamp," he says, "but it took me three hours to break out of it. It is much better to detour any obstacle, even if it means climbing a hill to get around it. Luckily, I was well equipped for the trip. My compass, canteen and machete were my most important items. The machete was most useful for making a lean-to in which to spend the nights. Sleeping was fair, except for mosquitoes."

GRANT SMITH

Lieutenant Smith's adventures began in an aerial engagement with other members of his flight, who tackled 20 Zeros. He managed to get one burst at a Zero, with undetermined results, before being shot down.

"My plane shook violently," he said. "My right ammunition box blew up leaving a large hole in the wing. The engine began vibrating badly and oil was spurting out on me. I broke off into the nearest cloud for cover, when I looked back and saw two Zeros on my tail, one of which was firing from close range. At that time I was about three or four thousand feet down, and I decided against leveling out with a disabled plane so I pulled the canopy release and belt. I was practically sucked out of the cockpit."

To avoid becoming a target for a Jap pilot, Lieutenant Smith delayed the release of his parachute. When the chute did open he floated for about 20 seconds, then crashed down through a tree. His harness was kept fastened and he landed on a muddy hill with just a few scratches. As he looked upward through a jungle thicket, he saw the plane circle overhead for about five minutes.

"Because of the low hanging clouds I had no idea of my relative position on the island—except that I was somewhere in the middle, so I decided to walk north to avoid the Japs, knowing

Earthquake Shakes Daly City Buildings

Buildings quivered in Daly City as the San Francisco Bay area was rocked by a sharp earthquake for nearly 3 minutes, Monday night, October 25, shortly before 10 o'clock, but no serious damage was reported from private residences or city water and street departments.

Many residents believed the jolt the most severe felt here in a number of years. However, it was taken calmly and the police reported no deluge of frantic telephone calls. In the main, people went on about their business as usual.

Police Dept. Busy With Thefts

It was a week for thefts, according to reports on file at the Daly City Police department. Everything from a piggy bank to a pickup truck was snitched.

On Friday, October 22, at 5:30 p. m., Mrs. Benckendorf, 219 Los Banos avenue, called for an officer. August Benassini responded and found that someone had entered the apartment, ransacked the place, scattered clothing and other belongings all over the floor. Nothing was taken, apparently, except a small child's piggy bank with $3 in it. Police are investigating.

Charles Eldridge, 525 Bellevue avenue, reported his 1930 Ford sport coupe stolen from Bosworth and Milton streets in San Francisco at 8 p. m., October 22. The theft was broadcast by San Francisco police, as well.

At 9:15 p. m., October 23, Joe Piccardo, Colma, came to the Daly City police and reported his green Ford 1939 pickup stolen from in front of 7379 Mission

If Not You Wait Until November 8

Daly City consumers who failed to get Books Four during the 4-day registration here, last week, will have to wait until Monday, November 8, to apply at War Price and Rationing Board No. 83-12-3, 470 Grand avenue, South San Francisco, for their copies. Even after that date there will be several days wait until personnel at the rationing board gets time to handle the late applications.

Miss Genevieve Blue, chief clerk, pointed out that latecomers are going to have their books "tailored" for being remiss in applying at the proper time and place. One week's supply of processed food coupons will be removed from each Book Four as a penalty.

A total of 12,358 books were issued in Daly City at the three school sites, October 20-23. Teachers of the Jefferson Elementary School district, under the direction of R. L. Crane jr., handled the big job of issuing Book Four. There were 4,341 local application forms filed and 63 out-of-county applications.

Likelihood that many Daly City families were still without Books Four was seen in the fact that the total of new books issu-

Christmas Mail Must Go Early!

Santa Claus came out of his toy shop, wiped his hands on some silver tinsel, and gave some straight-from-the-shoulder advice, today.

"The war has dislocated the Christmas mailing season. This year, NOVEMBER is the time for mailing Christmas gifts and cards. Mark the gifts, 'Do not open until Christmas.' The post office has already handled the parcels for our Army forces overseas. They now face the tremendous task of receiving, transporting, and delivering on time the vast volume of Christmas mail for our people at home.

"There's only one solution to this problem," advised Santa, selecting a large handful of bright red candy and chewing it reflectively. "Christmas gifts generally must be mailed in November. And that means YOUR Christmas gifts. This is something in which everyone who wants it to be a nice Christmas must cooperate. How about it?"

Council Hears Report

Calls Special Meet For Friday Night

In one of the briefest sessions on record, the Daly City Council, Monday night, transacted its business and quit the council chambers by 9 p. m. Minutes of the October 11 meeting were read and corrected, before approval, to include the name of Councilman Eugene V. Lynch on the city Recreation committee and the Ordinance committee composed of Mayor A. J. Gaggero and Councilmen Edmund Cavagnaro and Howard McHugh.

The board of councilmen heard a report on the sump being dug by firemen on the Niantic avenue pumphouse property. The city clerk read a detailed report on the 2-day convention of the California Municipal Utilities association in San Francisco by Arthur J. Bodien, water department superintendent. The report pointed out the necessity for Daly City to be ready to meet post-war expansion and other problems caused by the need to expand the Daly City Water department.

At the request of Councilman Eugene V. Lynch, a meeting of the police commission was called for tomorrow night, October 29, at the city hall, 8 p. m. Police Chief James G. Reardon was asked to be present.

Firemen Dig Emergency Sump

The Daly City Fire department has received three 500 gallon capacity pumps from the federal government for use during the war emergency, according to Chief Andrew P. Chesney. He announced that the men had been drilling with them but had been handicapped in trying to draft from a 50 gallon drum or make a trip to the cemetery lakes.

To meet this situation, the department secured permission from the city council to dig a small reservoir on the property near the Niantic avenue pumphouse.

On Sunday, October 24, Chief Chesney turned in a test alarm from Box No. 35, Citrus avenue and Woodrow street, and 28 men responded and worked 5 hours digging a hole 9 feet square by 10 feet deep. When concreted the sump will hold approximately 6,000 gallons of water which will

Local Board Gets Call For Ten Men, Nov. 5

Another call for ten men has been received by Daly City Draft Board No. 103. This contingent will leave for induction, Friday, November 5. Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, chief clerk, reports that fourteen men were inducted, Tuesday morning, October 26. Ten had been requested by the armed forces but with transfers the local board sent a total of fourteen.

Mrs. Flynn reminded fathers who are currently receiving Form 41 to be sure to have it notarized before returning it to the board headquarters at the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

Appoint Bodien On County Planning

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors appointed Arthur J. Bodien, Daly City Water superintendent, to the 5-man San Mateo County Planning commission, October 19. Bodien takes the position left vacant at the death of Dr. F. P. Callsen.

The planning commission has a representative from each of the five townships in the county but the City of Daly City has not been represented directly for many years.

The commission plans all future developments for the county such as laying out of highways, roads, and waterways, setting up recreational centers, controlling soil erosion and other matters vital for future progress of the county.

Bodien explained that his new position, which is without compensation, will in no way conflict with his Daly City duties. He pledged to represent the City of Daly City, the first township, and the county as a whole to the very best of his ability.

Advise Motorists To Sign Coupons

To assist in the prevention of black market activities, Daly City drivers were advised, today, by War Price and Rationing Board No. 83-12-3, to be sure to endorse all mileage ration coupons in their possession on the front with their license numbers and state. The book itself must be signed by the motorist.

This precaution must be taken by those with A, B, or C rations,

War Chest Drive Terminates Soon

Daly City has only a few days left to reach its quota in the current War Chest campaign. Mrs. Marce Trier, district chairman, announces that it will take a lot of last-minute donations of generous size for this community to reach its goal.

Householders who wish to contribute but on whom no volunteer solicitor has called may send their checks directly to Mrs. Trier at 158 Woodrow street, made out to the Daly City War Chest. Each home which gives in this campaign receives a sticker for its

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Richard C. Turner, 31, husband of Mrs. Marguerite Turner, Mission Auto court, 6843 Mission street, Daly City, was graduated recently from a month's "refresher" course in radio at the U. S. Naval armory, Chicago, Illinois. Further training in a Primary Radio Materiel school will qualify the bluejacket as a radio specialist in the U. S. Navy.

The young Navy man is one of a select group chosen for this special training on the basis of past civilian experience and recruit aptitude test scores. His course of instruction included mathematics, fundamental electricity and general Navy indoctrination.

Captain John D. McLaughlin, son of Mrs. Lottie E. McLaughlin, 180 Irvington street, has returned to duty in Kentucky, after enjoying a brief furlough, last week, at his Daly City home. While he was here, Miss Mary Newton, Hollywood, was guest of the family and her engagement to Captain McLaughlin was announced.

McLaughlin was promoted to captain, June 25 of this year. He had previously been a first lieutenant with the U. S. Army at Camp Atterburg, Indiana. He was graduated in October, 1942, from officer candidate school at Camp Lee, Virginia.

Among cadets now stationed at the Army Air Forces Preflight School for Pilots at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet center, Texas, the nation's largest pool for fighting air crews, are 196 young men from California. When they have completed their studies and training at the preflight school, the cadets will be sent to a primary flying field. Still further training in basic and advanced flying schools will prepare them to be combat pilots.

This group includes one from Daly City: Aviation Cadet Jamie M. Paine, 134 Miriam street.

Leon C. Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fletcher, 216 Templeton avenue, received his commission as an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve, October 20 in New York City, after completing the fifteen-week V-7 training course at the New York U. S. N. R. Midshipmen's school. He is now at home in Daly City on a 14-day furlough.

In impressive ceremonies conducted in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, the largest gothic cathedral in the world, the graduating class was sworn in by Captain John K. Richards, USN, the school's commanding officer.

This was the fourteenth class to be graduated from the school since its inception 3 years ago aboard the U. S. S. PRAIRIE STATE, formerly the U. S. S. IL-

C. D. Drill Set For 7:30 Tonight

At 7:30 sharp tonight, October 28, home protective personnel, under the supervision of the Daly City War Council, will get its first major drill in many weeks. All services in the area north of Wellington avenue and Bepler street, will be called into duty. Incidents emanating from the control center in the basement at the city hall are expected to provide a gruelling workout for volunteers, heads of services, and city officials alike.

There will be several officials from the State War Council on hand to observe the test, according to Director Arthur J. Bodien, who urged all wardens, auxiliary police and fire personnel, and other enrollees to be at their posts right on time.

On Thursday evening, November 4, the Daly City War Council will hold its regular meeting at the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Split Honors With South City

Daly City lightweight basketball teams divided honors with squads from South San Francisco high school, when they met on the Jefferson floor, Friday night.

The 110's were nosed out, 19 to 18, after leading for most of the game until the final few minutes. The visitors' winning tally scored with only 15 seconds to play. Coach Elman Rose started the game with the following lineup: Greenough and Root, forwards; Parodi (game captain), center, and Valverde and Christian, guards.

Situations were almost exactly reversed in the contest between the 120's, with Jefferson forging ahead to win, 13 to 11, in the closing minutes of play. Starting the game were Denning (game captain) and Chelone, forwards; Perada, center, and Welsh and Grant, guards.

Lincoln high school of San Jose will furnish the opposition in Friday's league contests, scheduled for the Jefferson court, starting at 3:15 p. m. Although this is their first year in P. A. L. league play, the Lincoln 120's have a win over Palo Alto.

Matoaka Council Honors Own Chiefs

Matoaka Council No. 18, Degree of Pocahontas, honored her own great chiefs, Mary D. Hamilton and Joseph M. Satariano both Great trustees of the Great Council of California, by a reception given for them, Wednesday evening, October 27, at Yosemite hall, 110 Page street.

The Social committee under the able direction of Chairlady Thelma Satariano, worked hard to make this an exceptional evening in every way and one which honorees will long remember. After the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

Members of Matoaka are generously donating money for an ambulance to be purchased by December 7, 1943 by the Degree of Pocahontas.

"A good date to keep in mind is the second Wednesday of every month when our monthly whist party is held. It is open to the public and anyone wishing to spend a sociable evening is cordially invited to attend. Game starts at 9 p. m.," Mrs. Olive Hoover, 1040 Brunswick street, Matoaka member said.

"STORMY WEATHER" AT DALY CITY

From vaudeville, night clubs and musical comedy, as well as from Hollywood, 20th Century-Fox has assembled an array of entertainment headliners for their top-notch musical, "Stormy Weather," which opens tonight at the Daly City theatre.

Something new in musicals, "Stormy Weather" has a film-full of stars combined with a story that is a cavalcade of rhythm. Boasting the best tunes of all, its production numbers are among the finest ever filmed. "Stormy Weather" is the story of swing on the upbeat . . . from the era of jazz, ragtime and blues to the torrid, tuneful tempos of today.

Lena Horne, Bill Robinson and Cab Calloway and his band top the cast of the tune-packed film.

The story, which covers the period right after the last war up to the present day, sets the stage for the musical numbers by ingenious use of the flash-back device. Director Andrew Stone paced the numbers to the individual and to say the cast is admirably fitted for the job at hand is to put it mildly. Each and every one is a "wow!"

Lena Horne, who burst on the horizon of the show world last year, handles most of the vocalizing, and she can sing with the best. Her rendition of "There Are No Two Ways About Love," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love," and especially the tantalizing title number, "Stormy Weather," are rhythmic masterpieces.

As for Bill Robinson, there never was a tap dancer who could touch him—and that holds true in "Stormy Weather." In addition, Bill proves himself a talented comedian by his deft handling of the key role.

Cab Calloway, renowned for his band's music as well as his own singing, stands out. His capers are aimed at bringing smiles, and his music sets one's toes a-tingling as they play "Walkin' the Dog," "Ain't Misbehavin'" and "Diga, Diga Doo."

New tunes from the picture which are headed for great popularity include "There's No Two Ways About Love," "That Ain't Right" and "My, My Ain't That Somethin'."

Other headliners in the cast include Katherine Dunham and her troupe, Fats Waller—whose magic at the keyboards is sensational.

STATUE OF LIBERTY

Fifty-seven years ago on October 28, 1886, the towering, majestic figure symbolizing liberty and the lasting friendship between America and France was unveiled in New York harbor before one million people.

The nearly three score years that have elapsed since that day have brought saddening changes into the world, but the statue still stands, liberty still lives, and the friendship between the two great nations goes on in spite of Nazi oppression that seeks to crush the very soul of France.

To the millions of immigrants who have poured through the portals of America from Europe, the Statue of Liberty has symbolized the freedom to live, to speak, to worship according to the dictates of their own hearts. To them it has meant opportunity such as they could never experience in the lands from which they came.

Today, more than ever, the Statue of Liberty embodies the courage and determination of free men the world over to hold aloft the torch of freedom so that all may walk in the light of true liberty.

WOMEN AT WORK

More women are working in California than ever before—an estimated 350,000. Of these, 281,300 are in industries. This latter figure has leaped from 67,000 in March of 1940.

But in spite of this increase, the number of feminine employees in our State is far behind our proportion for the country as a whole. In other words, we have about 6 per cent of the total national population in California, but we have only 2 per cent of the nation's 17,000,000 working women.

This accounts in some degree for the desperate labor shortage which continues to plague the Coast. The question is: What is the remedy?

In some Eastern cities housewives were appealed to through door-to-door campaigns. Many were found who were willing to work but thought they couldn't do anything to help. When convinced that they could render real service, they accepted full or part-time jobs.

Not all women find it possible to work in shipyards or factories, but they can help in stores and other businesses vital to the home front. For instance, the retail food industry has been recognized as so important that in several California areas the War Manpower commission has placed it in the "essential to the war effort" category, giving its employees the same vital status as that of war plant workers.

Here is but one of the many close-to-home businesses in which women can perform a genuine service—and incidentally increase the family income.

The sooner more women are willing to leave home—even if only for a few hours a day—the sooner we'll win this war and bring our boys back home.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

FOR an excellent firsthand account of the battle for New Guinea read "The Toughest Fighting in the World" by the Australian correspondent George H. Johnston. Mr. Johnston covered every step of the New Guinea campaign from January, 1942, up until a year later when Australian and American soldiers had driven the Japanese out of their strongholds from which they had threatened Port Moresby and the continent of Australia.

GEORGE H. JOHNSTON

Adventure is no longer unusual, says Mr. Johnston, but sometimes an adventure is so fantastic that it is worth the telling. One such story concerns the crew of a bomber that had crashed in the New Guinea wilderness. After slashing their way through the jungle for three terrifying days, the men came upon a clearing where rested the remains of an ancient biplane—a 1919 model. A week's labor, and they made it work. They fueled it with some motor petrol they found nearby, and actually took it up. If the incident had been in the hands of Hollywood, the plane would certainly have reached Port Moresby. But Fate was less kind. At the first gust of wind, the rickety plane crashed and the men were stranded for several days more until an Australian plane sighted them.

Another book about this phase of the war is "The Fighting for New Guinea" by the INS American correspondent, Pat Robinson. The American Air Force, says Mr. Robinson, had a strict rule that none of the boys take credit for shooting down a Zero, without absolute proof. One night the author heard General Whitehead sternly asking a new Fortress tail gunner why he was so sure he had bagged a Zero. "Well," said the youngster diffidently, "maybe I didn't get him, General, but I saw the plane break in three pieces and all three pieces were still burning when they sizzled into the sea." The General laughed. "In that case, young fellow, maybe we ought to stretch a point and credit you with one."

When Mrs. Etta Shiber, author of the book-of-the-month "Paris-Underground," was in Paris, after her first release from the Gestapo prison, a small boy came up to her and begged to be allowed to carry her packages. His name was Pierre, she discovered, and he had been a member of a well-to-do family. But his father was a prisoner in Germany, and the money the boy earned for odd jobs was the family's only income. "Some of my friends sell newspapers," he said. "There's more money in that." Then he added, proudly, "But I don't believe in it. It's spreading German propaganda."

County Blood Bank Supplies Hospital

The San Mateo County Blood Bank continues to supply fresh blood and frozen plasma without cost to the U. S. naval hospitals at Oak Knoll and Treasure Island. Regular pickups are made twice weekly by navy station wagons, but recently shipments have increased due to needs of wounded men brought back from combat areas. At Oak Knoll refrigerators holding 200 units of frozen plasma, and at Treasure Island 100 units of frozen plasma are constantly replenished by the Blood Bank. At the same time, enough blood and frozen plasma is always kept in the Blood Bank for emergency use in the hospitals of the county.

In keeping with the promise made to the community by the Blood Bank at its inception, 100 units of frozen plasma have been stored and distributed throughout the county, in Redwood City, South San Francisco, Daly City, Borden's in Burlingame, the Community hospital, and the Blood Bank for immediate use in case of war emergency.

People of San Mateo county are to be congratulated on the increasing contribution to the war effort made by their Blood Bank, since it is only through their steady and increasing support that this work continues. Since the amount of frozen plasma needed for civilian defense has been achieved and stored, the major part of blood taken now can be used for the boys in the Naval hospitals in the Bay area who have come back from the front. Five thousand five hundred and six units of blood have been taken at the Blood Bank since its opening on May 23, 1942. The amount of transfusions given at Oak Knoll during the past months averaged more than ten a day.

Donors are not permitted to give blood more than once every three months, but the following persons have the outstanding record of having donated five times since the Blood Bank was set up in this county: John O. Schmidt, Mrs. Henry Stonelake, Jean Underwood, Mrs. Raymond Lytkin, Mary Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McCormick, Frank Greis, Mrs. Clement Hall, and Mrs. R. K. Paine, all of San Mateo; Mrs. E. A. Breyman, S. R. Brown, Mrs. Rolfe Folsom, Mrs. Lester F. Scott, Walter Wahlston, and Dr. Arthur Nobbs, all of Burlingame; Claude Swayse of Menlo Park; Mrs. Florence Hopman, Daly City; Chester Ray Ferguson, Half Moon Bay; Mrs. Elizabeth B. Gentry, San Carlos; and Mrs. Elizabeth Hawkins, Redwood City.

Babies Go To Sleep At Police Headquarters

You get so you expect anything when you work in the police department, Still, Sunday night was a little different even for the boys to whom nothing is a surprise any more. While on patrol at 11:20 p. m. Sergeant Ricco Benedetti heard babies crying and upon investigation found two youngsters, one 2 years old and one 10 months old, in the back seat of a Ford sedan parked on Hillcrest drive at the cab zone.

Both were very cold and since there was nothing to cover them up with, Sergeant Benedetti brought them to the police department where a bed was improvised in Chief James G. Reardon's office. It was not until 12:15 a. m. that the mother of the youngsters was located.

Police turned the children over to her but not until she had been severely reprimanded.

War Housing Center Seeks More Listings

More applicants for housing accommodations came into the San Mateo County War Housing Center during the past month than at any time since the office was opened. In an effort to obtain more listings, a branch was opened at 464 University avenue, Palo Alto. This branch had 138 requests for houses and rooms during the first eight days it was open. The office at 1108 Burlingame avenue tried to help 1266 applicants during the month, making a total of 1404 seeking accommodations in this district, according to Louis Lengfeld, manager.

Fortunately, the centers were able to place 184 of these applicants; much too small a percentage, but still almost twice as many as during the previous month. The demand for rooms for couples, especially from servicemen assigned to posts in this vicinity, has been so great that volunteers have begun to telephone everyone in the phone book living near transportation, in the hope of obtaining more listings of rooms for young married folks.

Studebaker Has Three Who Know Jap Bombs

Three persons who experienced the terror of Japanese bombs under widely different circumstances now help the Studebaker corporation build military trucks, Flying Fortress aircraft engines and other war materiel, at South Bend, Indiana.

They are: Edward L. Cecco, late of the U. S. Marines and a Guadalcanal hero; Mrs. Betty Wickey, a school girl in Honolulu on December 7, 1941; and Tsu-Wang Hu, survivor of the first aerial attack on Nanking, China.

Ex-sergeant Cecco has an honorable discharge, grenade wounds and a skull fractured by a Jap rifle butt. He thought he could best continue the fight by employment in a vital war plant. Studebaker placed him as an observer in an engine test cell. Production is music to his ears.

"Every time Studebaker completes four engines, I know it means another Flying Fortress and fewer of the monkeys-who-talk-like-men," he says.

Mrs. Wickey, wife of an Army sergeant now on duty in the Pacific, has an abiding hatred for Tojo's forces, too, but she fears their cunning.

The Japs were smart enough, she says, recalling the sight of burning Schofield barracks and wrecked ships in Pearl Harbor, to raid Hawaii without warning.

Hu is the son of Dr. Hu Shih, Chinese ambassador to this country 1938-42. He becomes grim-faced when he talks of the Japs and pounds harder on the machines by which he does intricate calculation work on Studebaker military designs.

Junior Red Cross To Open Campaign

The 15,000 pupils in the elementary and secondary schools, within the jurisdiction of the San Mateo County Chapter of The American Red Cross, are today completing their plans for the Junior Red Cross enrollment campaign, which will be conducted November 1 to 15, throughout the nation. Each school conducts the enrollment according to plans made by the Junior council and teacher advisor, and all aim for participation by every person in the school.

Junior enrollment is on a school basis and the individual student becomes a member of the American Junior Red Cross through the enrollment of his classroom. In the elementary schools, an amount equal to 50c per schoolroom is transmitted to the national office, and the remaining sum is deposited in the Junior Red Cross Service Fund of the chapter. This service fund provides the monies for the Junior projects.

In high schools the Red Cross enrollment is on the basis of groups of 100, or a fraction thereof, with a fee of $1 going to Washington for each group division, and the rest to the Junior Service fund.

Miss Dolorita Falvey, Junior chairman for the local chapter, said today, "Our school people are ready for the national enrollment activities. Last year our chapter had 15,000 out of the 17,000,000 national members in the United States, and children everywhere did many things to bring comfort and cheer to men in our armed forces. We expect that our membership this year will show a large increase, for our enlarged program of wartime activities has an intense appeal to the children in our schools.

"From September, 1942 until June of this year our members made more than 6,000 articles which included utility bags, stretchers, ash trays, bedside bags, joke books, scrap books, hospital favors and furnished games and recreation articles.

"In addition to articles made, the San Mateo County Junior Red Cross collected $1,200 for the Camp and Hospital, War Fund, National Children's Fund, and furnished comfort kits. Their aim this year will be to increase the total."

Block Mothers Meet Wednesday

Daly City's Block Mothers will meet Wednesday evening, November 3, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Florence Bryant, 559 San Diego avenue. General discussion of block mothers' duties and responsibilities will be the order of the evening.

Recent volunteer to the group was Mrs. Lillian Thomey, 343 Willits street.

Mrs. Bryant pointed out that the block mother organization here is far short of the necessary number of volunteers to provide adequate protection to the community's children. She implored women to sign up for this important service. Those desiring to register as a block mother may do so at the November 3 meeting. Anyone wishing to discuss details of the program may contact Mrs. Bryant at DElaware 9907.

Health Association Schedules Meeting

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health association, a committee was appointed to arrange for the annual meeting of the association.

The meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 9, in the San Mateo City Council chambers in San Mateo. The regular dinner meeting, which has been one of the seasonal affairs, has been abandoned in the interest of making eating facilities available for war workers and military personnel.

Dr. William P. Shepard, president of the California Tuberculosis association, will address the meeting, as well as Dr. William Voorsanger, well known tuberculosis specialist of San Francisco.

An election of officers for the coming year will be one of the items in the order of the business meeting. The meeting will be called at 8 p. m. sharp—with Bradford M. Melvin, presiding, who extends an invitation to the general public to attend.

Motor Vehicles Department Asks Drivers To Act

Despite provisions of the vehicle code requiring all operators of motor vehicles to be licensed, one out of every five drivers in California is operating with an expired license, the California Department of Motor Vehicles revealed today.

Paul Mason, chief of the Division of Drivers Licenses, said tests made by examiners show 20 per cent of the drivers permit their licenses to expire for periods of from one month to twelve before renewing them. He warned that highway patrolmen have instructions to issue arrest citations to all drivers caught operating vehicles with expired licenses.

Tests made by examiners also show that eight per cent of the applicants seeking renewal have "good until revoked" licenses which were cancelled some years ago.

Urging drivers to look at their licenses and see if they have expired or are about to expire, Mason said the next two months will be an ideal time for drivers to come in for renewal as the work of the Division of Drivers Licenses will fall off perceptibly in this period. Few licenses will expire within the next two months because of a temporary postponement in renewals during the same period four years ago.

Epiphany Bazaar Is Huge Success

Reverend John Wagner, chairman for the annual Epiphany bazaar and festival held October 15, 16, and 17, today thanked all the committees and the general public for their cooperation in making the event a huge success.

Finale for the 3-day festivities was the ham dinner served at the parish hall, Sunday. More than 1,500 enjoyed the traditional banquet. Mrs. Leo Heyl was chairman of this feature.

MRS. ROMIE J. ROMONI

Mrs. Romie J. Romoni, who before her wedding, October 17, was Miss Kaye Abrami, is one of Daly City's most popular young business women. Proprietor of Kaye's Smart Shop, 66 School street, she has a wide circle of acquaintances and friends in this community.

The couple are making their home in San Francisco. Romoni is on active duty with the U. S. Navy.

DeYoung Museum Has Chinese Exhibit

The DeYoung museum is extremely fortunate in having been loaned an exquisite exhibition of "Archaic Chinese Mirrors, Small Bronzes and Jades" from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Marcus of San Francisco. The public is afforded a rare treat of seeing an aspect of Chinese art which is usually sadly neglected by most museums: objects which do not come under the heading of "display" pieces, but which actually constitute small masterpieces.

The Marcus collection is distinguished for its wealth of important mirrors which date from the late Chou Dynasty (600-206 B. C.) through the Han to the T'ang Dynasty (618-906 A. D.) These mirrors form a major section of the exhibit, illustrating through varied design, casting and color modes and changes in the life and culture of a people. Horse trappings, pole tops and small appliques from the Shang and Chou Dynasties; burial jades dating from the Shang through the T'ang Dynasty; a magnificent group of Buddhistic gilt bronzes from the Six Dynasties and the T'ang; a statuette from the T'ang Dynasty —this is the scope of the Marcus collection. Visitors to the DeYoung museum will be privileged to see and enjoy the display during the next two months.

COURT SALESIAN

Members and friends of Court Salesian, C. D. A., are invited to enjoy the Hallowe'en party to be given by the group at Corpus Christi social hall, Thursday evening, October 28. Festivities will get under way at 8:30 p. m.

General chairman for the costume party is Mrs. Helen Cahill. She announces that there will be a prize for the best costume and one for the funniest costume. Refreshments, games and entertainment are all on the evening's program.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

HOMEMAKERS will find their shopping for Sunday dinner considerably simplified this week both from the meat and vegetable standpoints.

The supply of poultry is quite good, according to the A & P Food Service for Homemakers, and there is also quite a lot of veal to be had. Lamb is still rather scarce and almost the only pork available is the smoked loin cut. There are plenty of frankfurters, bacon and sausage.

Western carrots are plentiful and other featured vegetable items over the week-end will be parsnips, peppers, potatoes, spinach, tomatoes and cabbage. Although the supply of cauliflower is increasing, this vegetable is still rather high-priced.

There are quantities of cranberries on the fruit stalls, as well as Tokay grapes, McIntosh and Cortland apples.

The following menus offer suggestions for Sunday dinner:

No. 1
Veal Loaf
Scalloped Macaroni
Spinach with Sliced Hard-boiled Egg
Cracked Wheat Bread
Baked Apples
Hot Tea

No. 2

County Taxes May Be Paid Locally

For the convenience of local taxpayers, arrangements have been made making it possible for Daly City and Colma residents to pay their San Mateo county taxes here, rather than at Redwood City. Taxes on all personal property secured by real property and one-half of the taxes on real property will be due and payable, Monday, November 1, and will be delinquent after December 6, 1943, at 5 p. m. Total taxes may be paid at the time of the first installment, if desired.

In Daly City, Wednesday, November 10, is the date and the collection place is the Daly City branch, Bank of America, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. In Colma, the date is Friday, November 5, at Colma branch, Bank of America, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Payment may, of course, be made at the tax collector's office, court house, Redwood City, any time during regular office hours except Sundays and holidays.

Child Guidance Series Sponsored By P. T. A.

First lesson in a series on child guidance, sponsored by the Monroe-Excelsior P. T. A., was held, Tuesday, October 19, at Excelsior school, Excelsior avenue and London street. There was a good attendance and the group found Miss Alice E. Ellis, representing the Child Guidance service of the San Francisco School department, an interesting instructor.

It is not too late for other mothers in this area who are interested in child guidance to enroll for these classes. Information may be secured by calling Mrs. Charles Cunningham, RAndolph 4403 or Mrs. William Kleinhammer, DElaware 5463. The class meets from 1 to 2:30 p. m. and care for small children will be provided so that mothers may take advantage of the course.

There will be six lessons in all, held every Tuesday.

Jeff Gridders Lose Second Game

Jefferson Union high school gridders repeated with a second 20-0 P. A. L. league loss, Friday afternoon, when they went down before a heavier squad from Lincoln high of San Jose. The game had been originally scheduled for the Jefferson field, was later changed to San Jose, then rerouted to Daly City again, where it was played.

Superior punting was the advantage which gave the winning margin, since Coach Marion Hall's Indians were kept bottled up in their own territory most of the afternoon. At the same time their defense was successful in preventing gains around end by the visitors' fleet backs.

In its third league appearance of the season, Coach Hall will send the team out against Palo Alto high school in that city, tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.

Lieutenant Smith

they had scattered positions on the South Coast. I walked for four days, reaching the north coast on the morning of the fifth day.

"During those four days I tried to hold a heading of North as near as possible. I used the compass that was in the chute pack. Without it, I could never have maintained a constant heading. I altered this course only when the terrain was impassable—which was quite often.

"The walking," Lieutenant Smith related, "the first two days was over fairly mountainous country with tall trees and dense underbrush. I attempted to stay as well as possible on the ridges, for to cross them would make progress slow and direction difficult to maintain."

All along the way, Lieutenant Smith found sufficient water, for there were many springs in the hills. On the third day of his jungle trek he came upon a good-sized river heading almost due North. He attempted to build a raft, but lacking materials, gave the job up in favor of following along the edge of the stream. The terrain had flattened out by now, but there were many times that he was forced to ford tributaries to the river, slowing up his speed.

On the third day he found a cocoanut tree, "Which," he says, "was a nice change from the D ration—the sweetness of which was getting difficult to enjoy. Other than cocoanut trees, I saw little else in the way of food in the jungle.

"When I finally walked out on the beach, I saw a small native village. The rest was easy.

"The natives took care of me—fed me, and led me back into the bush where I made contact with an Army unit.

"I was told that the country I had been in had never seen a white man and probably not even a native, so the best advice I could give, was to never bail out in the middle of a jungle—unless as a last resort!"

street. Local police were able to effect its recovery.

On Sunday at 6 p. m., John Dennis, Eighty-eighth and Sullivan streets, reported that a bunch of kids were breaking into the Villa Mateo on Junipero Serra boulevard. Sergeant Benedetti responded and captured the youths, all San Francisco juveniles. The boys had broken into the Villa by prying open the garage doors. Charges will be preferred against them. Extensive damage was reported.

At 7:55 p. m. Sunday, Mrs. Preston, 209 Woodrow street, notified police that some boys had abandoned an auto in front of her home at noon. Sergeant Benedetti responded and found a 1940 Chevrolet sedan registered to Frank Shewbridge, 280 Lee avenue, San Francisco. It had been stolen in San Francisco and used in a holdup. Local police turned the car over to its rightful owner.

window, signifying response to this appeal for funds.

In San Mateo county, church, labor, and civic leaders are rallying to the cause of the War Chest in raising $225,580 for six local community service agencies and 17 national war relief organizations. Local residents are asked to contribute at their homes in order that their donations may be credited in this county.

The committees working for the success of the bazaar meet every Tuesday evening.

The public is cordially invited to attend the big 3-day event.

ed was 979 less than the total of Books Two given out.

Beginning, November 1, the new books will be used for sugar and processed foods. Blue X, Y, and Z stamps in Book Three will be valid for processed foods until November 20, too. Green stamps A, B, and C in Book Four become good, November 1, for processed foods and remain good through December 20. Stamp No. 29 in Book Four becomes valid for the purchase of 5 pounds of sugar, November 1, and will continue to be good through January 15, 1944.

Another plea for proper care of War Ration Books was made by Miss Blue, this week. Now that shoppers must juggle four books as well as a loaded grocery basket and maybe a kiddie or two when buying the week's food, only the utmost care will prevent more losses than ever.

"Make every effort to protect your ration books," Miss Blue said. "Every lost book means wasted time here at board headquarters as well as personal inconvenience to the loser."

Finders of lost ration books may drop them in the mail without prepaying postage or enclosing them in envelopes, according to OPA. On payment of a 5-cent postage-due charge, the Post Office department will return the lost book to the person whose name and address appear on the cover. When the addressee cannot be found, the post office will forward the book to the nearest rationing board.

Advise Motorists To Sign Coupons

according to Miss Genevieve Blue, chief clerk, who made the announcement.

At the same time she warned those applying for additional gasoline to be sure to have their application forms signed by the employer or transportation committee with the recommended mileage clearly stated. She said entirely too many requests for additional gasoline were coming in from motorists who are making no effort to transport other riders to and from work. She said valid excuses were not being presented for failing to transport others.

No service station is to take gasoline coupons which are not properly endorsed, she said.

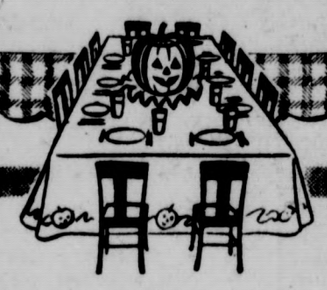
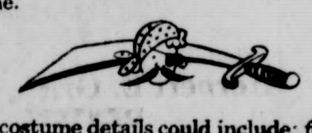
Julia says— Give a HALLOWE'EN PARTY!



OF COURSE we all know there's a war on—but in a way the war makes it even more important that we give the children a chance to observe Hallowe'en in a fitting manner. It seems to me the youngsters definitely feel, even if they aren't aware of it, the tension and excitement of war-time living. And it's a lot wiser to have them celebrate the Witches' Eve right in the home than to let them roam around the streets where there's always a possibility of their getting into trouble on Hallowe'en.

Why not suggest the theme of a special party to them, let them work out the details themselves and have their friends in for an exciting (but safe) evening?

For instance, a Pirates' Party! Let the invitations be written in blood-red ink . . . decorate with skull and bones . . . warn of spooks . . . insist that every guest wear some part of a pirate costume.



. . . costume details could include: fierce false mustaches . . . bandanas tied on the head pirate-style . . . cardboard rings in ears . . . black patch on eye . . . . . . house decorations may involve: paper skulls . . . skeletons . . . bones . . . red lights or candles.

. . . entertainment can be as varied as imagination allows, for example: a darkened "cave of the winds," where a vacuum cleaner moans and each guest shakes hands with a chicken's claw . . . blindfolded guests "kiss the binnacle" three times, twice kissing a tin pan but the third time dipping the face into a bowl of flour . . . "walking the plank" (the plank is held just free of the floor while the young guest, blindfolded, climbs onto it; the plank is rocked while the guest is told to walk forward on it, over deep water; then the guest is made to jump and finds he was still only three inches over the floor!) . . .

. . . the "treasure," of course, is exciting Hallowe'en refreshment, and here are some suggestions:

Evil-Eye Sandwiches
(Peanut Butter and Jelly or Jam, in Hallowe'en Cut-outs)

Grog
(Hot Chocolate or Cocoa)

Pieces of Eight
(Molasses Jack-o'-Lantern Cookies)

Cannon Balls
(Popcorn or Popcorn Balls)

And by the time that's all over, it's too late to get into trouble, outdoors!

A film entitled, "The Arid Southwest" was shown to pupils of Room 4, recently.

Last week, Room 5 was honored by Oscar Giusti buying a $100 War Bond. This week, 100 per cent of the class bought War Stamps, which helps to keep the "Minute Man" flag flying.

Two pupils, Katherine Morrow and Dell Mielich, Room 9, recently left for their home states, Oklahoma and Utah, for short visits.

Room 12 was anxious to begin participation in the "Buy a Flying Jeep" campaign, which was to get under way Monday, October 25.

Four bonds were purchased in Room 14, last week.

Robert Kalinin went duck hunting with his father over last weekend. Robert reported to Room 15 that he had a grand time and got his full quota of ducks.

Pupils in the high sixth and low seventh grade in Room 8 are making a wall map of the world, showing the voyages and discoveries of the European phases of the New World. This map will be used as reference work during the study of the discovery of the New World.

AT CROCKER

In their unit, "Living in the San Francisco Bay Area," the eighth grade of Crocker school had a most interesting and worthwhile social science period. Possessing only a few copies of "Stories of San Mateo County" written by Mrs. Eleanor Collins, noted San Mateo County educator, the students volunteered to report to the entire group on the various chapters in the book. Meaningful and interesting reports were given by the following volunteer group: Gene Borella, Betty Jean Cheli, Ann Robertson, Eliza Paradiso, Bernard Salan, June Brandt, Bob Anderson, Andy Baroni, Monte Robinson, Clarence Lack, and John Vaughn.

Coupled with this book review other students in the room have made attractive plates of the missions of California, together with a short history of each mission. Students who participated in this activity were: June Brandt, Russell Brauer, Clarence Lack, Barbara McGovern, Tom Davidson, Andy Baroni, Frank Torkelson, Ann Robertson, Monte Robinson, Nemiso Parades, Bernard Salan, Robert Montana, Anita Crespi, Joe Albera, Bob Anderson, Ruben Preciado, Eliza Paradiso, Beverly Rowe, and Alice Johnson.

Last week, the pupils of Room 2 were shown a motion picture entitled "The Art of Spinning and Weaving." They learned that spinning and weaving is one of the oldest of the arts. They saw how this art was practised in the Colonial days by means of the spinning wheel and the simple loom.

To complete their unit on the Middle Ages the students of Room 3 have each undertaken a project. Many of the girls are dressing dolls in the costume of the period, and the boys are making medieval weapons and castles.

Albert Mangini, Room 6, recently transferred to San Francisco.

Donald Matison, also of Room 6, went duck hunting at Napa, Sunday, with his father.

Fred Bricker, Room 4, went fishing at Martins' beach, Sunday.

Baked Peaches For Dessert

By BETTY BARCLAY

Nowadays, "company" desserts are not expected to be elaborate concoctions smothered with whipped cream.

In many ways a simple dessert is far more attractive anyhow, but it must be something out of the ordinary — an effective dessert that reflects the hostess' desire to give pleasure even though time is limited and a great many customary ingredients are a little on the short side, too!

A dish that doesn't involve any last minute fixing is always an advantage, and one of them is baked peaches stuffed with a delectable macaroon filling.

Because the recipe calls for cake and macaroon crumbs, don't start thinking it's a good idea to skimp on the sugar. A dessert simply has to be sweet to be good, and the last course more than any other determines the satisfaction-value of the entire meal. The attractive appearance of a dessert is psychologically pleasing, of course, but it's the actual sugar content that turns the tempting promise into truly satisfying performance, for sugar is the most quickly absorbed of all the carbohydrates, providing us with an almost instant renewal of energy.

Had we been entirely dependent upon shipments of sugar from foreign and insular producing areas, then sweet desserts might have been out for the duration. But we weren't. Here in the United States we have a home-grown source of sugar from sugar beets which each year accounts for a substantial part of our normal consumption requirements. And since sugar from sugarcane and sugar from sugar beets are identical in sweetness, appearance, food value, chemical composition, and all other properties, they may be used interchangeably for all purposes.

Always remember that, nutritionally speaking, an excellent place for sugar is in the dessert, so let's make sure our fruits, puddings and sauces are always sufficiently sweet.

Baked Macaroon Peaches

6 peaches
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
½ cup dry cake crumbs
1 cup macaroon crumbs
1 egg, well beaten

Cut peaches in half, remove stones and arrange in a buttered baking dish. Cream butter and sugar, add salt, cake crumbs, macaroon crumbs and well beaten egg. Arrange filling in mounds on peach halves. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400° F. until filling is cooked and peaches are soft, about 25 minutes. A little water may be added during baking if peaches are not very juicy. Serve warm or cold, plain or with custard sauce. Serves 6.

Treasury Praises Bank Of Am. Employees

Commendation for employees of the Bank of America came today from the Treasury Department for setting a record by selling $326,918,000 worth of War Bonds to Californians in a period of 11 weeks.

Telegraphing to A. P. Giannini from Washington, D. C., Ted R. Gamble, national director of the War Finance division, stated: "I wish to acknowledge on behalf of the Treasury the splendid accomplishment of the Bank of America in passing the goal of $300,000,000 set by yourselves as a six months goal on August 2.

"I would appreciate your expressing our thanks to your thousands of workers, who have demonstrated in a very practical way the kind of patriotism that will keep America strong.

"I have noted, too, that your plans call for even more intensified efforts despite the fact that you went over the goal at such an early date," Gamble's wire concluded. "Keep up the good work."

BONDS 'N STAMPS

To stimulate greater efforts in the selling of stamps and bonds and to give opportunity to students who have not yet entered the contest to participate in the drive, the closing date of the competition between the bond teams has been set forward to tomorrow, October 29.

To attain the goal of a $75,000 P-38, $8,000 worth of bonds must be sold each month.

The total sum so far is $17,400, but, a balance of $57,100 must still be raised.

Students commended for their outstanding work in the drive were Barbara Blecher, Wilma Cassasa, Eva Claus, Louise Terry, and Daisy Yonan.

ASSEMBLY

Dedicating their program to the new freshmen, Howard Miguel and his Indians of Rhythm gave out with their jive and swing during last Friday's assembly.

Some of the selections were: "Paper Doll," "Sunday, Monday, or Always," "Don't Get Around Much Anymore," and many other popular tunes.

Vocalists were: LaVerne Ledesman, Pat Morocco, and Daisy Yonan.

The dance band now consists of 14 pieces.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Those who are doing their part in putting the school dances over are the members of the Entertainment committee. The members are: Bud Fellows, chairman; Elsie Belli, secretary; Ken Hatt, student body president; Dick Little, William Faushauer, Eugene Lowry, Pat Taylor, Pat Morocco, Lenore Ross, Delores Thomas, Metha Woods, Dot Nelson, Winifred Grant, and Doris Veronello.

Faculty advisors are A. Hansen, Miss Dorothy Sanderson, Miss Dorothy Crowe, W. Griffith.

ABOUT SCHOOL

Jimmie Burford, a former student now in the merchant marine, dropped in at Jeff last Monday to invest $2,006.25 in bonds.

The juniors have already ordered their class pins.

It's fall again, so it's sweater and skirt time. Since Jeff's girls seem to go in for both most of the year—because of fog, of course—they are more popular now than ever. All the gals seem to be going in for purple and lavender sweaters—school colors at that.

With sore feet but a diverse collection of rocks, insects, and spiders, members of the Jefferson Naturalist society returned home, Sunday, October 17, after spending the day at Strawberry canyon in Berkeley.

Since the day was somewhat damp, the "bugologists" spent more time tramping over the hills and observing than in actually collecting, but they spent an interesting and profitable day.

The young scientists who went on the field trip with John Harville were Ed Boyle, Carol Bryant (an associate member), Beverly Clement, Don Nelson, Dot Nelson, Lois Rich, and Paul Underhill.
